COMMITTS SUICIDE.

Wesley Dowell, Son of T. B. Dowell, Uses a Shot Gun to End His Existence.

TRAGEDY OCCURRED AT GRADYVILLE.

Last Wednesday forenoon, between the hours of eleven and twelve o'clock, the news spread over Gradyville that Wesley Dowell, son of Mr. T. B. Dowell, who was about twenty-three years old, had shot and killed himself at his father's home.

The particulars, as we gather them, are about as follows:

Wesley was sitting in the family room talking to one of his sisters. Suddenly he got up, handed her his watch, saying: "Keep this in remembrance of me." He then walked upstairs to his room where he had a shot gun. Placing the muzzle to his right breast, he discharged it, either with his foot or a stick. He lived about twenty minutes.

Dr. C. M. Russell, Coroner, held an inquest and the verdict of the jury was in accordance with the above.

We learn that he was an industrious young man, but for some time he had been paying his respects to a young lady and his visits to her were not approved by his family, and that he had been admonished by his father and step mother to quit keeping her company.

The deceased was the only child by T. B. Dowell's first wife.

They were arrested and in the suit case twelve quarts of liquor were found. The parties were lodged in jail.

SKETCHES.

Horace K. Alexander.

It is not often you meet a gentleman in this part of Kentucky who is not acquainted with Horace King Alexander. Until recent years he was a stock dealer, traveling all over this section of the State and a portion of Tennessee. One of his chief characteristics is his Chesterfield manners, a more graceful and elegant man is rarely seen. He is a friend to every body and every body is his friend. He was born and reared in Burkesville, and from a boy to the present day, he has been a favorite with his home people. His lineage is as good as Kentucky blood makes, yet he has at all times had the utmost respect for those in the humble walks of life. His hat is off to every woman he meets, be she poor or living in affluence. Visit Burkesville and if he is at home he will take a delight in making you acquainted with the entire populace, and if courteous treatment will make you feel at home, the hours will pass pleasantly while under his care.

For several years he has been on the road, traveling for the Louisville Grocery Company and his trade has increased from the start. He presents his price list and if you give him an order you will know from his manner that your trade is appreciated. The longer he remains upon the road the greater volume of business will come his way. The house he represents is one of the best in Louisville, and it made no mistake when it secured the services of Mr. Alexander. Living comfortable with his wife and two children in his home town, he is happy in his efforts to lighten their burdens, and on his return trips he is given a happy greeting by his loving companion and devoted offspring.

May his last days be the happiest, is the wish of the writer who has known him from boyhood to the present.

Good Farm for Sale.

The farm owned by S. A. Epperson, deceased, situated 8 miles south-east of Columbia, on Russell creek, containing 127 acres, on which is a new, two-story, 8-room building and a large barn, will be sold at public outcry at the residence on said farm, on Saturday, Oct. 28, at 1 o'clock, p. m., to the highest and best bidder on a credit of six months.

50-3t. Della Epperson, Admr. etc.

Mr. Bruce Montgomery, who carried his little daughter, Elizabeth, to Louisville for treatment, returned last Thursday afternoon, leaving Mrs. Montgomery at her daughter's bedside. The child's tonsils were removed and another slight operation was performed. There was no operation for the ear trouble, and the attending specialist spoke very encouraging concerning the ultimate recovery of the patient. Mrs. Montgomery will be able to return home with her daughter in a few days.

DRESS MAKING—Over T. E. Wagener's store. Prices reasonable.
48-tf. Georgia Faulkner.

Rev. W. R. Wagoner, who has been the pastor of the Methodist Church in this place for the past year, left the first of the week, accompanied by Mrs. Wagoner, his daughter, Miss Ruba, and son, Russell, for the Morganfield Circuit, where he was assigned for the coming year by the last Louisville Conference. Rev. Wagoner and family made many friends during their stay in Columbia, and the best wishes of the community go with them to their new home.

A party or parties entered the Circuit Clerk's office at Burkesville, the first of this month and stole all the indictments returned by the grand jury at the last term of circuit court. There is some talk of Judge Carter holding a special term to have them rewritten.

The time for playing Bloomfield has been changed from Saturday afternoon to Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. If you want to see an exciting contest of foot ball be on the Lindsey-Wilson hill at that hour—next Friday.

Mr. L. Akin, of Sparkesville, has presented this office with an Irish potato, his growing, that weighed one pound and eleven ounces.

The Last Mexican Soldier in Adair County Dies.

Mr. J. W. Campbell, who was eighty-six years old, a soldier in Capt. Jack Squires' Company in the Mexican war, died at his late home, on Harrodsfork, last Wednesday. He was a highly respected old gentleman, and his funeral was largely attended.

Death of an Old Lady.

Last Tuesday afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock, Mrs. Mary O. Noe, who was the mother of Mr. W. E. Noe, who owns the auto line between this place and Campbellsville, died at her son's residence in this city. The deceased was seventy-four years old last May, and had been a member of the Methodist Church for many years.

The deceased was reared in Green and Hart counties, but before coming to Columbia she resided at Bradfordsville, Marion county, where she had lived for a long time, and where her husband, who died about one year ago, was buried.

She was a very estimable lady and had made many friends during her short stay in this place.

Wednesday morning the remains were conveyed to Bradfordsville where they were interred late in the afternoon by the side of her husband.

Mr. W. E. Noe is her only child, but she leaves a number of step children.

May God comfort them in this hour of sorrow.

Farm for Sale.

I wish to sell my farm, located one mile from Columbia, on the Russell Springs road, containing about 90 acres. Good dwelling and outbuildings, good water, etc. See 50-2t Henry Ingram.

Luther Gideon Sneed Killed.

Last Saturday night, not far from the Adair line, and in Green county, close to Miami, Luther Gideon Sneed, a well-known character of Adair county, was shot and killed by two Rogers boys. It is reported here that a crap game was in progress.

Since writing the above we learn from a gentleman who heard the shots, that six persons were wounded, including one woman, and that the fight occurred Sunday morning at 8 o'clock.

LATER:—Sneed is not dead, and may recover. One of his eyes was shot out, and he also received another wound.

Twelve of the young men of Columbia compose a band which was organized last week. The instruments are here and in a short time they propose to make the welkin ring with melodious music. Mr. Geo. W. Lowe and Mr. Walter Sullivan, two fine musicians, will instruct the band. A good band is the life of a town, hence the boys should be encouraged in their effort.

The sweetest community in Adair county, so far as we have heard, is Garlin. Mr. J. C. Blair stated to a News man, a few days ago, that he was through with making sorghum for this year having made about four hundred gallons for himself and neighbors.

Work of Fiscal Court

The October term of the Fiscal Court came to a close last Friday afternoon, it being in session four days. Besides transacting the usual routine of business that confronts the court every October, the Campbellsville pike was presented, and after the Magistrates viewed the road to the Taylor county line, they decided that the county was almost compelled to assist in its improvement and readily appropriated $2,500.00 to come out of the 1917 road fund. This, with the tolls, is believed sufficient to put the road in good condition.

The Court also applied for State Aid for 1917 and will expect to receive from three to five thousand dollars, to be used in building new roads. The Judge was authorized to issue County Warrants to secure the money for the Campbellsville pike so that the road can be put in condition before the winter sets in. This appropriation, with the toll money on hand, will do considerable work. Dr. Harlan Simpson was elected physician and ——— James keeper of the Poor House.

Dr. S. P. Miller was elected Jail physician.

Card of Thanks.

We feel that we owe a great debt of gratitude to our friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses shown us during the sickness of our mother and wish to return our heartfelt thanks to all.

Woodrow Wilson.

(Gov. Glynn at St. Louis)

A picture as drawn by master hand of Martin H. Glynn.

The man who is President of the United States today has measured up to the best traditions of a great office.

He has been wise with a wisdom that is steeped in the traditions of his country, with a wisdom that has been disciplined by training and broadened by instruction.

He has been prudent with the prudence of one who has within his hands the destiny of a hundred million people.

He has been firm with the firmness that proceeds from deep conviction, with the firmness that is grounded in a duty well defined.

He has been courageous with the courage that places country above self, with the courage that follows duty wherever it may lead.

He has been dignified with the dignity that is self-forgetting and self-respecting, with the dignity that conserves the majesty of the greatest office in the world.

He has been patient with the patience which believes and trusts that truth crushed to earth will rise again, with the patience that can endure and wait, watch and pray for a certain vindication of justice, humanity and right.

He has been patriotic with a patriotism that has never wavered, a patriotism that is as pure and strong as the faith that moved our fathers when they made our country free.

No President since the Civil War has had as crucial problems to solve, and no President has displayed a grasp more sure, a statesmanship more profound.

Assailed by the wolves of privilege, he has pulled their claws and drawn their teeth.

Assaulted by partisan envy he has shamed his traducers into silence and made friend and foe go forward together in the paths of national progress.

He has fired our patriotism with a new ardor; he has breathed into our ancient traditions a new vigor and a new life.

He has added strength to America's courage and mingled mercy with America's strength.

He has fastened the brakes of justice upon the wheels of power; he has lifted the mists from the temple where our liberties are enshrined.

And when the history of these days comes to be written and the children of tomorrow read their Nation's story, when time shall have dispelled all misconception and the years shall have rendered their impartial verdict, one name will shine in golden splendor upon the page that is blackened with the tale of Europe's war, one name will represent the triumph of American principles over the hosts of darkness and of death.

That name will be the name of the great President who has

The pies sold well and with the proceeds the teacher and pupils are papering and painting the school house, which adds greatly to its appearance.

What Does Catarrh Mean?

It means inflammation of a mucous membrane somewhere in the head, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, biliary ducts or bowels. It always means stagnant blood—the blood that is full of impurities. Left alone, it extends until it is followed by indigestion, colds, congestion or fever. It weakens the system generally and spreads its operations until systemic catarrh or an acute illness is the result.

Peruna

Is the nation's reliable remedy for this condition. It restores appetite, aids digestion, checks and removes inflammation, and thus enables the membranes, through which we breathe and through which our food is absorbed, to do their work properly. Forty-four years of success, with thousands of testimonials, have established it as the home remedy—Ever-Ready-to-Take. Its record of success holds a promise for you.

A Funny Addition Sum.

How many apples did Adam and Eve eat?

Some say Eve 8 and Adam 2—total of 10.

Now we figure the thing out far differently: Eve 8 and Adam 8 also—total 16.

We think the above figures are entirely wrong.

If Eve 8 and Adam 82, certainly the total will be 90.

Scientific men, however, on the strength of the theory that the antediluvians were a race of giants, reason something like this: Eve 81, and Adam 82—total 163.

Wrong again. What could be clearer than if Eve 81 and Adam 812 the total was 893?

I believe the following to be the true solution: Eve and Adam 8124 Eve—8938.

Still another calculation is as follows: If 814, Adam, Adam 81242 oblige Eve total 82,056.

Big crowds greeted the Democratic speakings at Lebanon and New Castle. The buildings would not hold the people and the speaking had to be out doors.

Virginia Dare.

The first English child born in America was delivered by the stork to William and Eleanor Dare, Aug. 18, 1587. The Dares had reached Roanoke less than a month previously with the party of settlers commanded by John White, the father of Eleanor Dare. The infant, a girl, was christened Virginia. The proud grandfather soon found it necessary to return to England for supplies, leaving behind eighty-nine men, seventeen women and two children, among them being the daughter, son-in-law and baby Virginia. On his way home White touched at Ireland and left some potatoes which took from Virginia—these being the first of that kind ever seen in Ireland. His return was considerably delayed, and it was not till 1590, three years after his leaving, that White saw Roanoke. He found the settlement a desolation, and no trace of the colony was ever found. The fate of Virginia Dare is conjecture, but it is not improbable that she was adopted by the Indians. It is believed that many of the colonists mingled with the natives, and for a long time thereafter families of the Hatteras tribe exhibited unmistakable indications of a admixture of European blood.

Saved by a Dream.

A farmer living at Lapford, England, dreamed thrice in succession that he saw a pit dug in one of his fields and some of his property cast into it. At the third time of dreaming he got up, dressed and went out. He heard the thud of a spade and caught sight of a man digging by lantern light. The digger fled at his approach. It was a grave upon which he had been at work. By it's brink lay a huge knife. On his way back the farmer met one of his maidservants. She had had a quarrel with the man to whom she had been engaged, she said, but he had prevailed upon her to meet him for the last time at 2 o'clock that morning, when he had something to show her. "This is what he had to show you," said the farmer, leading her to the grave.—London Tatler.

The Lewis Machine Gun.

The deadly machine gun being used by the Allies is an American invention. It came from the brain of an American army officer, Colonel Isaac Newton Lewis. It was rejected in this country, after a test which was pronounced "unsatisfactory," and adopted in Europe after demonstrating its efficiency.

Colonel Lewis, now retired, was in the United States army for thirty years. He devised a rapid firing machine gun weighing about twenty-six pounds, and now known as the Lewis gun. He offered it to the United States government free of charge, but it was rejected after several tests had been made. Be it said, however, to their credit, a number of our army officers notably Generals Wood, Funston and Pershing, have all along contended that the Lewis gun is superior to that which Brigadier General Crozier adopted for our army. General Crozier preferred the Mercier or Hotchkiss gun, the invention of a Frenchman, but which the French did not adopt. We also have in the United States army a few Vickers, an English invention which the English army does not favor.

After its rejection by the United States army, Colonel Lewis had his gun patented, and is now receiving a royalty upon every one used by the Allies. The United States army will also use the Lewis gun in the future, paying its inventor the royalty which he now demands—a tribute to the folly of our army officers in not having recognized the merit of the Lewis gun when it was tendered to them for nothing. The Allies are using thousands of these guns. Indeed, it is estimated that fifteen million rounds of ammunition are fired from them every day in the battles now being waged. They are light and easily portable, and can be operated by one man, and do not jam as did the guns which the American soldiers attempted to use at the time of Villa's raid upon Columbus, New Mexico. The truth is that if the American soldiers at Columbus had been equipped with the Lewis gun instead of the Hotchkiss pattern, a different story would have been sent over the wires the morning after the raid.

Despondency

When you feel discouraged and despondent do not give up but take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you are almost certain to feel all right within a day or two. Despondency is very often due to indigestion and biliousness, for which these tablets are especially valuable. Obtainable at Paul Drug Co. Adv.

New Pension Legislation.

At the last session of Congress legislation of great importance to widows of soldiers of the Civil War was enacted. Under the provision of a new act all widows of Union soldiers who have reached the age of 70 years, or who were married to soldiers prior to their discharge from the service, are entitled to increase of pension to $20 per month to date from the passage of the act, Sept. 8, 1916.

By another provision of the same act the benefit of the pension law is extended to all widows who were married to Civil War soldiers prior to June 30, 1905. Under the law as it existed previously, widows who were married subsequent to June 30, 1890, were excluded. Pensions under these provisions begin from date of filing of application in the pension office.

Another provision of the law gives widows of Civil war soldiers who have been dropped from the rolls by reason of remarriage, the right to be restored to the rolls after divorce from, or death of, the second husband.

Tanlac, The Great New Medicine, Sweeps Over Nation: Merit Wins And Multitudes Givs It Praise

"Made Me Younger"—"Put Me Back on The Payroll"
"Gave Me New Life"—In The Thousands of Endorsements Given Master Medicine

This is Tanlac Week.

More than seven Million five hundred thousand bottles of Tanlac have been sold in the United States in the two years since the first bottle was sold.

That fact alone is sufficient explanation why Tanlac Week should now be celebrated in cities throughout the United States. The tremendous and unprecedented success of Tanlac could not have been achieved without true merit. The 8,000 druggists who are giving Tanlac their renewed endorsements by special displays this week know that they have behind them the unqualified endorsement of Tanlac by millions of satisfied customers.

No other medicine has ever had the same success that Tanlac has won as a tonic, appetizer, invigorant and revitalizer. Its fame was instantaneous and it spread through the country until today it is known everywhere as the Master Medicine.

True Worth Explains Success.

Tanlac's success is easily explained—true worth. The tens of thousands of men and women who have endorsed it praise it because they are grateful for the relief Tanlac has given them.

To suffer from sleeplessness, indigestion, nervousness, rheumatism, belching and bloating from gas, dizziness and biliousness; kidney and liver troubles, pains in the stomach, the back and the head for years, and then to get relief through a tonic that is pleasant to take, gentle and gradual in its results, renewing the appetite, aiding assimilation, and restoring health, vigor, ambition and strength, is enough to make people grateful.

Tens of thousands of people have said that Tanlac is The Master Medicine. Tanlac Week therefore means something to them.

Endorsements are Remarkable

Some of the endorsements of Tanlac are remarkable. They show that taking Tanlac was a profitable investment for sick, weak, nervous, run-down men and women—profitable in more than one way. Some of the praise of Tanlac is in phrases that are written over and over.

"I feel like a new man"—"Tanlac has put me back on the payroll"—"I never lay off from my work since I took Tanlac"—"I do twice as much work as I used to"—"Tanlac has made me feel twenty years younger"—"I wake up in the morning feeling fine now".

Many women have written, "I have my natural color back since I took Tanlac"—"I feel like a girl again"—"My neighbors ask me what I have done to look so young and my answer is Tanlac"—"I feel like a different woman; my housework is a pleasure since I took Tanlac".

Those are some of the expressions which tens of thousands of men and women have used, in statements praising Tanlac.

Tanlac Meets a Need

Prepared from a secret formula, purely vegetable and absolutely free from mineral taint, Tanlac has met the need of a great reconstructive tonic to feed while it heals sick, sore stomachs; to promote digestion, aid assimilation, induce healthy and normal function of the digestive apparatus, and to build up health and strength in a natural way.

Throughout the vast world Nature has placed remedies for the healing of the nations. In Tanlac the best of them are merged for a sensible, reliable remedy. In Tanlac nature offers the great natural remedy for the everyday ills from which millions of men and women suffer.

The ingredients or medicinal elements which make Tanlac come from far separated sections of the globe. It is as though Nature, planting her gardens in every zone of the vast world, permitted man to select the best for compounding into a great remedy. Man has spared no expense or labor to get these best ingredients.

Now a Household Remedy

Roots, herbs and barks best suited to a great tonic are used in the making of Tanlac. They are selected scientifically and blended with care. In order to insure a supply of them for Tanlac, The Cooper Medicine Company bought large amounts of certain ingredients. Ten tons of one ingredient were bought on one order.

Tanlac's success, starting so quickly, is lasting. It has become a household remedy and is in two million homes because it is the great medicine which Nature offers from her best products.

Millions of people know this and Tanlac therefore is praised everywhere as The National Tonic—the upbuilder of health and strength through the stomach, blood and nerves.

There is a Real Difference

Cream of tartar, derived from grapes, is used in Royal Baking Powder because it is the best and most healthful ingredient known for the purpose.

Phosphate and alum, which are derived from mineral sources, are used in some baking powders, instead of cream of tartar, because they are cheaper.

If you have been induced to use baking powders made from alum or phosphate, use Royal Baking Powder instead. You will be pleased with the results and the difference in the quality of the food.

Editor News:—

If you will allow me a little space in your paper, I will try and tell my friends in Kentucky some of the things that are done in Morgan Co., Ill. The oat crop was very good. Made from 40 to 75 bushels per acre. The hay crop was fine here. Hay is very cheap here, worth $8 a ton. Oats 35 cents per bushel. Wheat $1.50 per bushel. Old corn 80 cents, new corn 50 cents, hogs 9 cents per pound, cattle 8 to 11 cents. One of my neighbor, James Hembrough, sold 101 head of steers at 10 cents per pound, and they averaged 1,310 pounds each. There are lots of cattle and hogs fed in this State. The farmers go to Chicago and St. Louis, Mo., and buy stock hogs and cattle that are shipped in from the West. I went to the State Fair at Springfield, Ill., and I saw some very fine cattle, sheep and hogs and fowls of all kinds. Some very good horses, but I think Kentucky can beat Illinois for show horses. I saw some hogs that weighed 1,200 pounds. The largest hogs I ever saw. Well, I saw two airships. Saw one go up. This would have been a great sight to James Jones, of Glensfork, for I know of him going to Burkesville once to see one, when Crocus creek was very high and dangerous, and when he got there the airship did not come. Think he went to Indianapolis, Ind., to see one. Well, it is a great show to see the farming implements in the state of Illinois. I left Glensfork, Ky., in September, 1915 I like here fine. Don't know when I will be in Kentucky, but hope to be some time. I love the people in Kentucky, it is my old home, but I like the people here. They are just as good to me and my two little girls as I could ask anybody to be, and I appreciate it very much. My son-in-law, J. P. Kelsey, wife and daughter left here for Kentucky in August on the account of his health. The Doctor here said the climate and water did not suit him. We regretted to give them up as we had all lived together ever since they married. Joe Willis came here last March, but soon got home sick and came home. He is back here now and says he will stay till corn is picked if it does not get too cold here. My friend, Odis Lewis, was in to see in the summer. I had a letter from my old friend, M. F. Dudley, Bartlettville, Okla., a few days ago. A man with a family can get anywhere from $30 to $35 a month. A single man $26 to $30 a month. One of the world's greatest circus' shows was here in August. We attended the great chautauqua which went on for ten days. They claim to have the best chautauqua in the United States. I heard some lecturers that cost $200 for one hour and thirty minutes talk. I go to church

ABOUT

NOV. 6.

We are prepared to open this season on a much larger scale than heretofore have not been represented on this market, therefore creating competition on both Dark and Burley, to EQUAL ANY MARKET IN THE STATE and we can truthfully state that the following competitive force of brokers and manufacturers will excell smaller markets:

G. O. TUCK & CO., BUFORD & CO., AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., GORIN BROS., TAYLOR & CO., HOGAN & SON, J. F. PEN-DLETON, and numerous other exporters and manufacturers.

We have been censured to some extent for not announcing sooner our future prospects, but it was not wise to do so before the above orders had been cured. The applicants and demands for space, prize room, etc., signifies to us that REMUNERATIVE PRICES WILL PREVAIL. We have the farmer's interest at heart and the larger we can make this market the better for the farmer. This is a cooperative enterprise for your benefit, and remember this is the only way to market your tobacco, and buyers have realized it. It is quicker and less expense than the hoghead market.

Our four years experience has taught us what the farmer wants—QUICK SERVICE AND TOP PRICES. We are buying more baskets and will be able to handle 100,000 daily, 8,000,000 pounds for the season, and avoid congestion. We have inaugurated a NEW FLOOR SYSTEM and there will be NO MORE WAITING FOR CHECKS.

S. G. Shelley, P. E.

He Won Out.

Things had certainly looked black for the very young lieutenant when his colonel discovered him in sweet communion with his daughter.

What could he say when he was summoned to explain himself? As a general rule men are helpless as babes when in love. He was made of sterner stuff than to knuckle under.

"Have you any explanation to offer for your conduct?" the colonel demanded, sternly.

"Sir," answered our hero, bringing his hand up to a smart salute, "I have the honor to report an engagement at close quarters, in which I have been entirely victorious. It now only remains for you to give consent to the terms of surrender."

He carried the day.

According to the Court of Appeals it is a violation of the law to keep barber shops open on Sunday and the barbers of Louisville are delighted as there will be no more Sunday shaves.

Death Claims Mrs. E. M. Shelley.

The entire community was shocked Tuesday afternoon when the death of Mrs. E. M. Shelley was announced. She had taken suddenly ill in the early part of the day with puerperal convulsions, and only a few of the people of the town had learned of her serious condition until her death was announced. Dr. Garrett had been called to her bedside early in the morning and later Dr. Croch, of Forbus, and Dr. Sloan, of Albany, Ky., were called. An Obstetrical operation was performed, but to no avail, and about 3:40 o'clock the end came.

The remains were taken to Albany, Ky., yesterday for burial, that being the girlhood home of Mrs. Shelley.

The deceased came here in 1909 with her husband, Capt. E. M. Shelley, who is cashier of The Bank of Jamestown, and since that time she has been a leader in church and Sunday School work, and has endeared herself to the people of the town as few women ever did. She was a Christian in the true sense of the word. She was loved by all who knew her because of her sweet disposition and the noble life she lived.

She is survived by her husband and seven children, namely, Eugenia, Porter, Margaret, Doris, Philip, Ralph and the infant son born on the day of her death. Also by her father, B. P. Harrison, who has been making his home at Mr. Shelley's a good portion of the time for several years, and one brother, G. E. Harrison of this place, and a sister, Mrs. Perkins, of Albany, Ky.

The family have the sympathy of the entire community in this sad hour. — Jamestown, Tenn., Gazette.

Kentucky's New Pure Seed Law.

The new pure seed law, enacted at the last session of the General Assembly, and approved by the Governor March 23, became operative Saturday.

In a bulletin just issued the directors of the Kentucky experiment station, discussing the lag says:

"The interests of both the farmer and the seedsmen are comprehended by the new law. Its intention is to afford the former protection against contaminated and worthless seeds and to protect and encourage those parties engaged in the production and marketing of high grade farm seeds. seeds of bluegrass, sweet clover, hemp and white Burley tobacco is already recognized and the operation of the pure seed law is expected to establish our seeds producing industry on a still more secure basis.

"Under the provisions of the new law seedsmen are permitted to test their own seeds and to use the results of these on their tags. But all tests must be made according to the rules regulations adopted and employed by the Association of Official Seed Analysis of North America.

"Kentucky farmers and seedsmen may submit samples to the Experiment Station for testing, which will be done free. Because of the congestion of work on the station laboratories, however, the larger seed concerns are advised to provide for their own testing."

How Catarrh is Contracted.

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucus membranes, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a little bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable at Paull Drug Co. Adv.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

All Indians Not Western.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press is unable to believe the Transcript's statement that one will see more typically Indian faces in Eastport, Me., than in any city of Oklahoma. The Pioneer Press is evidently unaware that Eastport is the home of the Passamaquoddy tribe of Indians, and that they are very much in evidence on the street.

Few Indians are ever seen in an Oklahoma city—even in Muskogee, which is probably the most Indian city in that state. The nomad was once in Oklahoma City several days and saw only one Indian in all that time. In Muskogee one might suppose that all the tribes of Africa were set loose, but he would never suspect the presence of an Indian tribe.

There are plenty of real Indians in Oklahoma, but they do not frequent the cities. The Passamaquoddies, on the other hand, like to frequent the streets of Eastport.

There are also a good many Indians in Nova Scotia. One of them satirized the points of the compass a year or two ago by joining a Wild West show.—Boston Transcript.

Sufficient Unto the Day.

At a recent reception at the Colony club in the city of New York, the members of the Authors' League of America were guests, along with a considerable number of persons moving majestically in the most rigid and exclusive circles of top society.

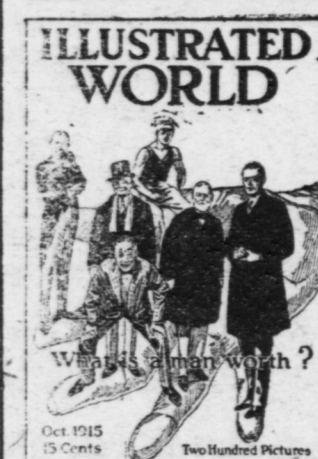

One of the patronesses, a woman who has plenty of wealth and plenty of literary ability as well, presently espied two delegates from Society's arctic regions sitting in a window seat, very much alone, and apparently not enjoying themselves to any large degree. Plainly, they were mother and daughter, a very commanding looking mother and a rather docile, timid daughter. Being minded to make the affair a complete success, the patron lady approached the aloof pair.

"How do you do?" she said. "I am Mrs. So-and-So. Wouldn't you like to meet some of the authors who are present this afternoon?"

The senior lady's austere nose went up just a trifle straighter.

"No," she said with congealed politeness; "no, thank you. We've met one."—Ottawa Free Press.

Where, Indeed?

Ezra Moved His Well.

There is an old story about the man who pulled up a well and took it to a more desirable location and another about the man who took up a well, sawed it into sections and used one of the sections for a land roller, says the Youth's Companion. They were exaggerations, but the experience of Ezra Tetlow proves that a well cannot always be classed as a permanent fixture. Ezra had a well in front of his house. It had never been a success as a well. Ezra wanted it filled up. One way would have been to haul stones or earth and use the material to fill it. But Ezra had no team.

So he went at it with a shovel. Working on the side of the well next to the road he began to dig and to throw the dirt into the well, which was not a difficult job as the well was rather shallow.

But when the task seemed finished Ezra found that he had made a new hole by the side of the one he had been filling. There was but one thing to do—he proceeded to fill it in the same manner. Of course this resulted in still another excavation, which in turn received similar treatment.

As all of Ezra's digging has been on the side of the well nearest the road the result was that the hole in the ground was finally moved out to the highway.

Judson Tolliver was commenting on the exploit one day down at the corners. "Queer thing Ezra did," he remarked. "You know that old well that stood in his front yard? Well, sir, he moved it 30 feet from where it was—moved it clear out into the road!"

"How'd he do it?" inquired another representative citizen.

"You'll have to ask Ezra," replied Judson. "But he did it, sure enough. I saw the well in the road yesterday, and I saw the track he made moving it. The thing plowed a furrow four feet wide all the way."

Is there any reason why farmers should not make good money now? With wheat at $1.55 per bushel, corn around $1 per bushel, hogs selling above $11 per hundred, cattle market good and strong, and all farm products selling at better figures than for years, it does seem that a deserved profit should now be going into the hands of the farmers. Of course there are many farmers whose hindsight is better than their foresight, and they are bewailing the fact that they have none of the high-priced products to sell now,

Some people say that farming is somewhat of a gamble, in that no one knows what to raise this year to make the biggest profit because the market on the article at harvesting time cannot be forecasted. But that cannot be so, because many farmers are now reaping the benefit from a little study of the market conditions, and now have the sell those articles and products which are bringing the highest prices. But there is one way a farmer can almost insure a good profit on a year's work, and that is by studying and following the principle of diversified farming, and by marketing much of his crop on the hoof.

He certainly had become unbalanced. Wesley was a young man that every body liked. He attended to his own affairs and was an indus-

His father, mother, brother and sisters have the sympathy of this community in this hour of sad affliction. The remains were interred at the family burying grounds at Lyletown, a large crowd of sorrowing friends being present.
